Part 1: UTS College Under 18 Student Care Program

How to apply for a student visa if you're under 18.

If you're applying for a student visa and you're under 18 years of age, you must have adequate accommodation and welfare arrangements in place for as long as you're in Australia before you turn 18.

The Department of Home Affairs website has more details on applying as an under 18 student.

How can a UTS College under 18 student meet this requirement?

If you're an international student under 18 years of age, and you want to live with a parent, legal custodian, or relative over 21 years of age, please apply to the Department of Home Affairs for approval of your accommodation and welfare arrangement. UTS College will not issue a CAAW letter in this case.

Option one (when a CAAW isn't required)

You can nominate a parent, legal custodian, or eligible relative over 21 years of age (as defined in 'Welfare arrangements approved by the Department of Home Affairs') as your student guardian. The person you nominate must have a visa to stay in Australia for the duration of your student visa or until you turn 18. In this instance, UTS College doesn't provide a CAAW.

Option two (when a CAAW is required)

You can arrange a CAAW from UTS College to cover your enrolment period up to your 18th birthday. The CAAW will confirm that you're using the services of an approved caregiver and that you live in UTS College approved accommodation. It's compulsory to use the UTS College airport pickup service if you've requested a CAAW letter. Please provide all your arrival details to the College at least two weeks before arriving so we can confirm this service. A CAAW letter is only available to under 18 students who have, or intend to apply for, a Subclass 500 Student Visa. UTS College doesn't accept welfare responsibility for under 18 students on any other visa type.

What is the application process for an under 18 student who doesn't require a CAAW letter?

If you're an international student under 18 years of age, and you want to live with a parent, legal custodian, or relative aged over 21, please apply to the Department of Home Affairs to approve your accommodation and welfare arrangement. UTS College doesn't issue a CAAW letter in this instance. For more about this, visit the Department of Home Affairs.

Transfer from another registered education provider.

When we receive an application from a student under 18 years of age who has welfare arrangements approved by another registered provider, UTS College will:

- Negotiate the transfer date for welfare arrangements with the releasing registered provider. This ensures there's no welfare arrangement gap.
- Inform the student of their visa obligation:
 - to maintain their current welfare arrangements until the transfer date
 - or have alternative welfare arrangements approved
 - or return to their home country until the new approved welfare arrangements take effect.

What is expected of students under 18 years of age?

Under 18 students with a UTS College CAAW letter must:

- Not arrive before the commencement dates listed on the CAAW. Arriving earlier than these dates is a breach of student visa conditions. It's important to understand this can result in a visa cancellation by the Department of Home Affairs.
- Advise UTS College / homestay provider / student residential of arrival details in Sydney.
- Use UTS College-approved transport from the airport to their approved accommodation.
- Remain in UTS College approved accommodation and welfare arrangements until they are 18 years of age.
- Remain in UTS College approved guardianship at least until they are 18 years of age.
- Keep all contact details up to date (including emergency contacts, parents and/or legal guardians).
- Comply with applicable UTS College policies and procedures as well as all other regulatory, legislative, and UTS College Standards.
- Comply with all policies and procedures of applicable third-party accommodation and welfare providers.
- Attend appropriate orientation activities, including those relating to their accommodation and welfare services.
- Not change their accommodation and welfare arrangements without approval from UTS College.
- Pay all fees relating to welfare and accommodation services on time.
- Comply with curfew requirements.
- Not stay overnight outside their approved accommodation.
- Not leave Australia for holiday without prior approval from UTS College.

What happens if a student breaches the under 18 students' rules?

Breaching any rule listed above may result in an allegation of non-academic misconduct. If this happens, the situation will be managed in accordance with the UTS College's Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

What happens after students turn 18 years old?

Once students turn 18 years of age, UTS College will send them (and their parents) an end-of-care letter. The letter confirms they are no longer obliged to follow under 18 student's rules and policies.

Students can opt to move out of their homestay, student residential, or special host arrangement, and arrange their own accommodation if they wish. In this instance, it's important to check with the accommodation provider for their notice period and contract cancellation policy.

It's essential to be well prepared when you're travelling as a student under 18 years of age. You need to understand some important information before leaving your home country. This way, students admitted at different timings can all join the session. This induction is compulsory for all under 18 students and their parents. Check your UTS email account

Check all digital signs

There are electronic notice boards throughout the buildings on campus. Please make sure you check these regularly for information about forthcoming student activities and important notices.

Contact details

It's important to keep UTS College up to date with your current contact details. You can update your contact details on eStudent, or complete a 'Change of Contact Details' form at the UTS Student Centre.

The Department of Home Affairs requires international students to advise UTS College of any changes to contact details within seven (7) days.

UTS College is responsible for confirming that your accommodation and welfare arrangements are appropriate.

Your student ID card

When you enrol, you'll need to submit a photo for your UTS College Student Card. You can use the CaptureME portal to upload your photo from a computer, tablet or smart phone. See the guidelines for uploading your photo.

- By your teachers
- By security or administration staff
