

5 reasons why you should choose a Bachelor of Cybersecurity/ Bachelor of Criminology at UTS.

Study a Diploma of IT at UTS College and receive 48 credit points towards a Bachelor of Cybersecurity/
Bachelor of Criminology at UTS - and start in 2nd year!

Here's five reasons why:

- choose from a variety of careers including financial crimes analyst, cyber security analyst, fraud prevention analyst, digital fraud prevention analyst, intelligence officer, security analyst, security architect, IT security engineer, cyber security officer, crime prevention analyst, research officer, policy analyst and much more
- undertake this one-of-a-kind degree in Australia, unique in its applied nature and industry focus on criminology
- understand the major factors associated with criminal behaviour and develop industry-relevant skills to tackle a critical threat in contemporary society
- gain expertise in securing data and data communications, as well as investigating and providing solutions to cybercrime
- learn to analyse crime patterns, identify risk factors and develop critical thinking, analytical reasoning, investigation, evaluation, and research skills to assist your understanding of complex social issues as they relate to crime.

Find out more about the Diploma of IT at UTS College and the combined Bachelor of Cybersecurity/Bachelor of Criminology at UTS.